

30 July, 23

Nishita, 1002115268

BIOLOGY

Ans 1. Left atrium receives the oxygenated blood from the lungs.

Ans 2. Largest artery in human body is 'Aorta'.

Ans 3. The process of transporting prepared food material from leaves to other body parts of plants through phloem along with its constituents, known as translocation in plants.

Ans 4. Functions of lymphs:-

- (1) It helps in supplying nutrients and oxygen to the tissue cells where blood cannot reach.
- (2) It absorbs fat from the intestine.
- (3) It throws away the excess fluids in tissue or metabolites.